

UPCOMING EVENTS:

Monday, Mar 2nd

New seating arrangement!

Wednesday, Mar 4th

Las ranas de la semana/the frogs of the next week are Juan Carlos and Micah! (since he missed it last week)

Thursday, Mar 5th

Sharing this week about informados e instruidos/ knowledgeable or indagadores/inquirers will be Sam Di, Ava, and Sam Du! Need an idea? Have your student draw a picture or bring something that reminds them about one of the profile attributes to share with the class.

Tuesday, Mar 10th

Late Start Day
No PM Kinder

Friday, Mar 13th

End of 2nd Trimester

Silabas/Syllables

We played a new circle game with rhymes yesterday. We morphed a students name with different syllables, you are probably familiar with Frank, Frank, Bo Bank, Banana Fanana Fo Fank, Mi My Mo Mank, Frank, though our pronunciation was slightly different for Spanish. We also had a short discussion on rhyming words, which we will explore more in the coming weeks.

Matemáticas/Mathematics

I hope the math packets that I sent home are going well! I have already received a picture of one hundred things that one student gathered. As a reminder those will be due on the 23rd of March. This week we practiced number recognition using mixed up flashcards and practiced saying the number. Today we put together single digits to form a double digit number and say that aloud as well. This is a skill you will see assessed on the report cards coming up at the end of the month.

Cuento/Story

Tomorrow we will do a picture walk with the text, Árboles/Trees. We have yet to name the class tree but I will let you know!

Escribir/Writing

Today we practiced writing "y" which proved tricky for some but all did their best!

*Please collect plastic tops to pop bottles or juice (they don't get recycled anyway) and we can use them for math and reading!
Thanks.*