Sílabas/Syllables and Sight Words

This week we discussed another five sight words including: ¿Cuándo?, que, ¿Qué?, quien and ¿Quién?. We've been slowly working our way through the Reader's workshop this week and next. After next week you can ask your student what book they read aloud in Spanish (by then everyone will have had a turn reading in the small group).

Matemáticas/Mathematics

This week we learned a new game to practice addition, since we really didn't have an exact name you can ask your student about the beans/frijoles, agua/water, and animals/animal game they learned. We also had a look at many different kinds of objects that help to measure. We will be practicing measuring a variety of objects tomorrow.

Ciencia/Science and Escritura/Writing

We finally narrowed down from the many great ideas of names to give one name to each fish and snail. We added another fish and two snails this week. The algae eater/comedor de alga is Darth Vader. The goldfish/pez dorados are named Jack, Lia and Lily. The guppies/pez millon are named April, Fifi, Anna and Twinkles. The snails/caracoles are Belle and Cutie. Your student(s) definitely have interesting senses of humor; they drew from their own sources of ingenuity and not from either of my examples. You can ask your student what they voted for or submitted as an idea.

During the writer's workshop the students have been putting their imaginations to work with fiction stories about the pez in our acuario. We hope to finish those next week.
